

“When you are trying to do a transformation, if you don’t have some kind of lever, you have varying levels of success of your program,” Laufenberg said. Changing the master schedule, while difficult, is a major signal to everyone connected to the school that pedagogy is shifting. “I we don’t match our minutes to our mission, teachers are not going to shift.

At Luella High, three teachers of the same subject, sophomore English, all teach during the same period. Teachers in those three sections can then rotate between teachers depending on their individual need. In addition to a schedule that allows for the rotation model, Smith also wanted to create opportunities for interdisciplinary work and be mindful of how many exams students would take at the same time. To achieve a schedule that accommodates all these priorities ....Smith has had to give up some things. He is planning to hand schedule the entire high school next year as existing software isn’t designed to handle the priorities.

“Why a School’s Master Schedule is a Powerful Enabler of Change” – Mindshift – Luella High School

“When you are trying to do a transformation, if you don’t have some kind of lever, you have varying levels of success of your program,” Laufenberg said. Changing the master schedule, while difficult, is a major signal to everyone connected to the school that pedagogy is shifting. “I we don’t match our minutes to our mission, teachers are not going to shift.

At Luella High, three teachers of the same subject, sophomore English, all teach during the same period. Teachers in those three sections can then rotate between teachers depending on their individual need. In addition to a schedule that allows for the rotation model, Smith also wanted to create opportunities for interdisciplinary work and be mindful of how many exams students would take at the same time. To achieve a schedule that accommodates all these priorities ....Smith has had to give up some things. He is planning to hand schedule the entire high school next year as existing software isn’t designed to handle the priorities.

“Why a School’s Master Schedule is a Powerful Enabler of Change” – Mindshift – Luella High School