Organizing Adults

Teachers create their own professional development at the school level to respond to school specific strengths and needs. Stakeholders and school members co-create opportunities at the school and community level for student success.

Students at the Center

Students will have a say in how their school makes decisions that affect them. Students will become more aware of opportunities that their classes can open to them.

Teaching & Learning

High quality Tier one instruction with benchmarks to inform teaching and learning responses.

Postsecondary Pathways

Students are provided with a sense of civic mindedness through community involvement. Expanding awareness for students of the possibilities education can provide vocationally and academically.

Graduation rate increase from 69% to 88.1%

"The technology and Chromebooks are good and have been helpful in completing assignments in Google, but the use of Xello has been the most helpful to me choosing a career path and better understanding how I learn and what interests me the most."

LCHS Student Quote

One idea that turned out better than we expected

Graduation rates at Leake County High have increased by nearly 20 points with a significant reduction in chronic absenteeism.
